Ghous-e-Azam Mosque, Dulwich Islamic Centre

Active
Islam
23 North Cross Road, SE22 9ET

Ghous-e-Azam mosque exterior

Historical summary
The mosque originally opened at 45 Upland Road in 1995 and included women but since 2008 it has been men only. The current site was built in the late 1870s and had been the site of a grocer then a tin plate worker who made milk churns. It was then converted to flats before becoming a mosque.

Sources: Southwark Local Studies.